July Was a Sizzler

Chicago, Ill.—August 1st.—Practically the entire country is sweltering in the heat wave, the heritage left by July, which passes with a bad record. In 19 important cities the temperature yesterday was 100 degrees or higher and the lists of dead and prostrated are again a grisly feature of the weather report.

Chicago, because of a friendly shift in the wind, which brought in the lake breeze and heavy clouds, due to early morning showers, was spared to a considerable extent, but the showers raised the humidity to a high point, causing more suffering than direct heat.

REAL ACTIVITY IS CONSTRUED IS FORMULATING MEXICAN POLICY

President Not Swayed By Ambassador Wilson's Arguments.

WILL BE FRIENDLY TO MEXICO

Democrats in the Senate Opposed to the Suggestion of Recognition For the Huerta Government—Great Moral Question Involved, According to White House View of It—Latin-Americans Await Pronouncement.

Washington, Aug. 1.—To those who discussed the Mexican situation with him, President Wilson made it clear that he had not been swayed in the least degree by the arguments of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson in favor of recognition for the Huerta government in Mexico. The president is formulating a policy which, he told his callers, involves nothing that is not entirely friendly to Mexico.

It developed that Democrats in the senate were concurring in this view and further discussion of Ambassador Wilson's statement before the senate foreign relations committee brought out a general sentiment of opposition to the suggestion of recognition for the Huerta government.

Senator Bacon, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, is of the pronounced opinion that to recognize the Huerta government would be putting a premium on revolution in Mexico. He believes, moreover, that it would be an incentive to every revolutionary leader to assassinate the head of the nation, with full expectation that his act would receive the approval and official recognition of other nations. Senator Bacon is also of the opinion that the recognition of Huerta, far from bringing about peace, would be the strongest encouragement to ambitious chiefs.

Senator Bacon reflects the views of President Wilson, who has held from the beginning the pronounced opinion that a great moral question is involved, greater than the mere judgment of the acts of a single ruler.

Latin-American diplomats here are looking forward with eager interest to President Wilson's pronouncement of policy as a further expression of his attitude toward Central and South American nations.

English Militant, Released From Jail, Adopts New Form of Protest.

London, Aug. 1.—Mrs. Mary Wyan, the militant suffraget who was released from Holloway jail after a hunger strike, although she protested against her release unless it was made unconditionally, has adopted a new form of protest against the refusal of the government to grant votes to women. Mrs. Wyan is continuing the hunger strike she adopted in prison and says she will keep it up until the militants triumph. She has refused food since she was sent on Saturday last to a nursing home in the West End, in charge of female warders from Holloway jail.

THE NATION'S MILLIONS WILL HELP IN WORK

GOVERNMENT TO HELP MOVE CROPS

Millions to Be Deposited in Banks of South and West.

McADOO ISSUES A STATEMENT

Prime Commercial Paper Will Be Accepted by the Government as Security For Deposits and United States Bonds Taken at Par—Important Announcement by the Secretary of Treasury.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Twenty-five to fifty million dollars of government funds will be deposited in the national banks of the south and west at once by Secretary McAdoo to facilitate the movement of crops. Federal, state and municipal bonds and prime commercial paper will be accepted as security for the money, upon which the banks will pay 2 per cent interest.

The motive of Secretary McAdoo in establishing this new policy is to anticipate the money stringency in the late summer and fall which invariably accompanies the marketing and movement of crops, especially when the crops are unusually large, as the harvest now beginning forecasts. He intends to take time by the forelock and prevent or minimize the usual tightness of money.

In a statement the secretary made the significant announcement that government bonds would be accepted at par as security for the new deposits and that the additional money would be placed only with banks which have taken out at least 40 per cent of their authorized circulation. The United States 2 per cent bonds, serving as security for most of the national bank circulation, have been depressed recently to new low market records, dropping to 95½ during the past few days.

The secretary's willingness to accept these bonds at par as security for the $25,000,000 to $50,000,000 of promised deposits and the inducement to the national banks to increase their circulation up to the 40 per cent limit is expected to help in restoring the parity of the depressed 2's by creating a new market for them.

IN PANAMA EXPOSITION

Great Britain and Germany Will Not Participate.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Germany has followed the lead of Great Britain in declining to participate in the Panama canal exposition at San Francisco in 1915. Announcement to this effect was made at the state department. According to the statement of department officials, the reason assigned for nonparticipation in both instances was that there are so many calls for participation in expositions. It is understood that this vague reason is really a cloak for more positive convictions, at least on the part of Great Britain. The British, according to the understanding here, are resentful because of the refusal to consider their claims in the Panama canal tolls controversy. It was represented as the view of the German government that it did not consider the San Francisco exposition an international affair, inasmuch as the United States government has made no appropriation for participation in it.

Columbus, O., Aug. 1.—Frank Fufli, 20, an Italian, was drowned in Alum creek while bathing. He was a waiter at a hotel in East Columbus.

Awful Cost of Folly

Greenville, Ill., Aug. 1.—George O. Morris, a wealthy farmer, his wife and two daughters, Vera, 19 years old, and Georgia, 7, were killed instantly late yesterday when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Vandalia train at a crossing here.

Jacob Hackman, who was also riding in the machine, escaped injury by jumping. Morris, encouraged by the cheers of his wife and daughters, witnesses say, was making a sensational attempt to beat the train over a grade crossing when the accident occurred.

The train was making 60 miles an hour. A feature of the accident was that, despite the train's great speed, the auto was not hurled far from the track.

Instead, the machine was held on the pilot of the locomotive and, with its four occupants, was carried many yards.

Dr. Robert Bridges, New Poet Laureate Of England, A Verse Maker of Note

This is the best picture of Dr. Robert Bridges, the new poet laureate of England, to reach America. He was recently appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Alfred Austin. For a short period it was rumored that the poet would go unfilled as it had become somewhat of an empty honor, but the appointment of Dr. Bridges leads to the hope that on future state occasions verses from his pen may help to restore the position to its former illustrious standing.

COMMENTS OF MULHALL ARE FROWNED UPON BY COMMITTEE

NOT ALLOWED BY COMMITTEE

Efforts By "Defense" to Go Into Mulhall's Private Life.

IS UNDER CROSS-EXAMINATION

Former Lobbyist Denies the Report That He Had Knifed Senator McComas of Maryland—Swears Compensated to Obtain Letters He Laid Before the Probers—Alleged Corruption Fund of $200,000.

Washington, Aug. 1. The cross-examination of Martin M. Mulhall, former lobbyist of the National Association of Manufacturers, proceeded haltingly before the senate lobby investigating committee. More than 100 questions submitted by counsel for the association were put to him by Chairman Overman. Robert McCarter and James A. Emery, attorneys for the association, were denied the right to cross-examine the witness directly, but after much debate were permitted to submit questions based upon replies the witness made to the questions already submitted.

Mulhall himself, always an interesting witness, ready to make comments on the attorneys of the National Association of Manufacturers or its officials, surpassed himself, in spite of continual warnings by the chairman. He declared once that unless the committee allowed him to have counsel he would refuse to answer further questions and would rather go to jail. Chairman Overman finally became so angry that he bluntly told him unless he refrained from superfluous comment and stuck to plain answers he would be subjected to discipline. Mulhall subsided after the admonition.

The National Association of Manufacturers' attorneys attacked Mulhall's story told in his correspondence and his examination-in-chief along several lines. They sought to show that he was discharged and did not resign from the association. They produced statements in a newspaper that published his correspondence before the committee took up the investigation, alleged to have been made by the witness, which he denied, and they questioned him to show that he tried unavailingly to dispose of his documents to many magazines and newspapers without success. An effort to go into Mulhall's private life was not allowed by the committee.

Mulhall managed to get in a denial that he had knifed the late Senator McComas of Maryland several years ago, working against the senator for re-election while posing as his friend. He admitted that he sent out circulars to business men in Baltimore, while seemingly still a friend of McComas, but swore that he did this under orders of Marshall Cushing, at that time secretary of the association.

Mulhall swore that Samuel Gom-

RECEPTION WAS A CORDIAL ONE

SUFFRAGETS SEE SENATORS

Also Hear Speeches in Support of Their Cause.

Washington, Aug. 1.—The suffragist supporters of an amendment to the constitution of the United States visited the senate to plead their cause. They came, not in a solid phalanx, but two by two, each pair of exponents of the gentle doctrine of "votes for women" bent upon interviewing the senators from their respective states. As each senator responded to the call to "stand and deliver an opinion" the suffragists were ushered to the marble room. The reception was cordial in the last degree. In anticipation of the visit a special section of 150 seats had been reserved in the ladies' galleries. The ladies heard speeches from Senators Shafroth, Owen, Sherman, Works, Ashurst, Smoot, Lane, Poindexter and Jones. All were in support of the suffragists' contention.

B. & O. TIES UP PEARL STREET

Railroad Employees Build Fence Across Pearl Street at Point Where Council Ordered Crossing Laid and Where Street Commissioner Has Cut Grade.

The plan of the city council to open Pearl street across the B. & O. railroad has been temporarily blocked by the B. & O. erecting a barbed wire fence across the street where Street Commissioner Hillery has just finished cutting the grade.

Carrying out the orders of council Service Director Mark started the work of opening up the crossing and the steep embankments were cut down and everything placed in readiness for the B. & O. to lay the plank crossing required.

When road supervisor Potter was asked to order the crossing in he refused to build it, but instead sent his men who planted several big posts and stretched barbed wire across the street at the point where the crossing was started.

The local authorities will accordingly resort to legal steps to compel the road to lay the crossing.

As the street when opened will cut across an important siding of the road, it will cause considerable inconvenience to the road. However, the determination to open up the street and connect the English addition with the main part of town in a more thorough manner than at present, is strong, and early action is promised.

JUDGE ALLEN DECIDES COMMISSIONERS MUST PAY DAMAGE CLAIM

Judge Allen Friday announced his decision in the case of Eli Davis and Sons against the County Commissioners of Fayette County.

The case was one appealed from the order of the Commissioners refusing to allow the claimants anything for damage to their flock of sheep, by dogs which had broken into the inclosure.

Following their usual custom the commissioners allowed only for the sheep killed by the dogs.

Judge Allen holds that they should have allowed for the damage to the rest of the flock.

It is likely that when the amount of damage sustained is finally decreed that prosecutor Maddox will carry the case to a higher court as the order as it is now stands establishes a new rule of action in sheep claim cases.

Chas. A. Reid represented the claimants and Prosecutor Maddox the commissioners.

George W. Taylor and Lawrence Losey Leap for Their Lives When Flying C. H. & D. Passenger Train Crashes Into Farm Wagon East Of Town.

TAYLOR SEVERELY INJURED BY PIECES OF WRECKED WAGON

Horses Were Stripped of Harness But Escape With Slight Injuries After Being Cut From The Wagon. Accident Occurred One Mile East Of Fairview Station at 3:45 Yesterday Evening—Bad Wreck Also Narrowly Averted.

A near tragedy occurred on the C. H. & D. railroad one mile east of Fairview station Thursday evening, when west-bound passenger train No. 203, due here at 3:57 crashed into a farm wagon driven by George W. Taylor and Lawrence Losey, and the men escaped with their lives only by leaping as far as they could into the ditch.

The men were in the act of crossing the track and for some unknown reason failed to see the train in time to prevent the crash. The engineer frantically blew his whistle and reversed the engine, but the train could not be stopped until it had run twice its length past the scene of the accident.

When the two men saw that there was no escape unless they leaped from the wagon, they sprang outward with all their strength. Losey jumped from behind the wagon and landed in the ditch, escaping serious injuries. Taylor was less fortunate and leaped forward. When the pilot struck the wagon it cut it free from the horses and hurled it over Taylor, landing it upon the fence two rods away.

Taylor suffered some very ugly cuts and bruises which will lay him up for several days. How he escaped being crushed to death is not known, as pieces of the wagon fell all about him.

Both horses escaped serious injury although one of them was stripped of harness with the exception of the bridle. The other one was bruised where the wagon tongue had struck it when the crash came.

As soon as the engineer could stop his train he backed up to the spot expecting to find both men dead, and was agreeably surprised when they crawled out of the weeds.

That the engine was not derailed and a serious wreck brought about is another of the remarkable features of the accident.

The crossing where the smashup took place was not on the public road. No blame is attached to the train crew.

Both of the men had such a miraculous escape from death, live in the neighborhood in which the mishap occurred.

The telegram relieves the anxiety aroused in the local church by the unwillingness of the Des Moines church to release their pastor and the uncertainty in regard to the decision of the Iowa Presbytery.

"This announcement was made after the newly organized school board had declined by the vote of 14 to 1 to accept her resignation."

DENTAL OFFICE ROBBED OF GOLD

Dr. Chas. Soddors Again Loses Large Quantity of Gold When Sneak Thief Jimmie Door and Carries Off All of the Precious Metal—Fellow Also Walked Off With Two Razors and Confederate Money—$50 Reward Offered for Conviction.

The Dental offices of Dr. Chas. Soddors was robbed sometime Thursday night, and all of the gold stolen, together with two white-handled razors and some confederate money. The total loss will reach between $50 and $60 and Dr. Soddors has offered a reward of $50 for the conviction of the thief.

The burglar gained entrance by jamming the office door, releasing the screen door fastening by lifting the hook with some thin instrument. Once inside he ransacked the office from one corner to the other, and secured all of the gold leaf, scrap, shells and fittings from various drawers.

As the office door opens into the hallway at the stairway the fellow had a good opportunity to work undisturbed, and did so accordingly. When Dr. Soddors discovered the theft he immediately notified the police and placed the affair in their hands. It is said that a clew left behind may prove of some assistance in locating the fellow.

Some five years ago the office was robbed of about $125 in gold, and it is evident that the same party did the work, as entrance was gained in the identical manner as previously.

NEW SIDEWALKS ARE LAID, BUT---

The new cement sidewalks on the south side of Paint street, opposite the B. & O. station have been completed by a force of B. & O. employees who worked according to the grade established by the City Engineer.

While the sidewalk itself has been completed, there is a great deal of complaint about the manner in which the walk connects with the five track crossings, as the walks are from four to ten inches higher than the track crossings, causing the walk to be very unsightly and decidedly inconvenient to those using them.

English Literary Consuls.

If America is famous for its ambassadors who have been men of letters, England can boast of her literary consuls. G. P. R. James, probably the most prolific English novelist (except, perhaps, Miss Braddon), wrote three novels a year for about forty years and died in 1890 as consul general at Venice. Sir Richard Burton likewise wrote most of his travel books and translations of eastern works when consul in various parts of the world. At his last consulship at Trieste, which he held from 1872 to 1890, he succeeded Charles Lever, the Irish novelist, who had occupied the position for fifteen years. But is there a famous English literary consul at the present time?—Exchange.

Will Have a Real Vacation

In the city of Cincinnati two young girls full of life and energy and as appreciative of a good time as any young American girls, and, from all reports, girls whose company is much sought by the young society men, concluded to spend their summer vacations in a new way.

Instead of going to the seashore, to the Michigan lakes and woods, to the wilds of Canada or to any one of a hundred other fashionable and attractive resorts, these young girls just budding into womanhood, have concluded to stay at home all through the summer season and have cancelled all of their social engagements for the season.

Why?

Because each one has taken a little child from the slums of Cincinnati—a little child whose parents are unable to properly care for and nourish it, a little one that would suffer if left with its parents during the heated term, untold agony, in body and mind. Each one of these girls will devote the time and money which would otherwise be spent in vain and selfish attempt to amuse themselves and to occupy their time to saving a human life and making that life less of a torment and more like a life in this world should be. The work begun by these young women this summer will be resumed again next summer, is the announcement.

Whether this will be, in the end, a sacrifice on the part of these young women, depends entirely upon their mental make-up. If they are broad enough to take up such a splendid work in preference to the hollow nothingness which their vacation as originally planned promised, the chances are that they are blessed with a mental vision clear enough to pierce the future and see the big returns in happiness which the course they have chosen will pay. If so, of course, the present vacation season will be one of real enjoyment and pleasure.

The world looks upon this as a noble act and it is, but it is the character of the young women, their appreciation of what is and what ought to be, their knowledge that they have a duty to perform and their willingness to perform that duty, which shines out distinctly above all else. It is the splendid human character which the act discloses rather than the act itself, which compels admiration.

The young women are deserving of the highest praise for their conduct and they are also to be congratulated because they possess real good common sense, know a good time when they see it and have the presence of mind to take hold of opportunity when it presents itself.

Be Particularly Watchful of All You Eat During the Summer :-:-:-

By CARL L. ALSBERG, Chief of the Bureau of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture

WHILE PEOPLE SHOULD BE CAREFUL ABOUT THE CONDITION OF THE FOOD THEY EAT AT ALL SEASONS OF THE YEAR, THEY SHOULD BE PARTICULARLY WATCHFUL DURING THE SUMMER MONTHS. IN HOT WEATHER BACTERIA MULTIPLY FAR MORE RAPIDLY THAN IN COLD WEATHER AND PRODUCE CHEMICAL CHANGES IN SOME FOODS WHICH GREATLY LESSEN THEIR NUTRITIVE VALUE AND OFTEN MAKE THEM UNFIT FOR HUMAN CONSUMPTION.

Unfortunately there is no quick, absolute, simple, practical way of determining the presence of harmful bacilli in foods or of obtaining positive evidence of the existence of ptomaines. The average family does not have the delicate apparatus needed for these tests nor the skill to detect these micro-organisms.

The housewife will find EYES AND NOSE THE SAFEST PRACTICAL DETECTIVES OF BAD FOOD IN HOT WEATHER. If any article has any suspicion of an unusual odor or looks abnormal it should be AVOIDED. People eating in doubtful restaurants should be PARTICULARLY CAREFUL ABOUT MEATS OR FISH COOKED WITH A HIGHLY SPICED OR AROMATIC SAUCE, which might disguise a bad taste or warning odor.

Only sweet smelling, clean food should be eaten. Spotted, green, slimy or frothy raw meat or meat which is soft in spots also should be regarded with suspicion. Taste, of course, is a supplementary test, but one to be used AFTER EYES, NOSE AND FINGERS. A mother before she allows her child to eat anything should EXAMINE IT CAREFULLY IN A GOOD LIGHT, SMELL IT AND FINALLY TASTE IT.

Those who go away for vacation should not get the idea that everything in a summer resort or strange city is necessarily pure and wholesome. The DANGER OF TYPHOID FEVER IN COUNTRY RESORTS IS VERY GREAT. Many of the cases of typhoid fever recorded in the fall in cities where the water is pure had their origin in water or contaminated substances drunk or eaten at some summer resort.

BALLADE OF UPKEEP CHARGES

I thought I wanted an automobile
Of my own—I was young and awful green—
So, I lent my ear to an agent's spiel
And purchased a little one lung-ed machine
With a thirst for trouble and gasoline.
The purchase price, it was no great shakes,
But the car soon shook this into my brain:
'Tis the upkeep cost of a thing that breaks!

I sought to make a political deal—
Its benefits could be plainly seen.
The boss of my district made me feel
That the government soon on my strength would lean.
To get in that game, costs little, I ween,
But honor and fortune are in the stakes—
The methods aren't always exactly clean—
'Tis the upkeep cost of a thing that breaks!

'At least will a wife prove cheap and leal,'
I thought, and while I would not be mean,
She'll manage my home and she will not squeal
For cash at night and morn and between—
Alas! She has come now upon the scene
And charge of my bank account she takes;
From her I can find no logical screen
'Tis the upkeep cost of a thing that breaks!

L'ENVOI

Princes of kickers I am the dean,
So heed me well for your fortune's
sakes,
First cost doesn't make the wallet lean—
'Tis the upkeep cost of a thing that
breaks!

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS

(By John E. M. Kerr.)

A number of Cincinnati organists together with many within a 100-mile radius of the city, have organized a Southern Ohio Chapter of the American Guild of Organists. The purpose of the Guild is to promote good comradeship among its members and at the same time raise the standard of the organ music, particularly that performed in the church.

At least one local election in Illinois since women were granted the right to vote is full of significance. In the town of Carpenterville at each of the preceding two elections the "drys" won by only one vote. The other day they carried local option with the help of the women by a vote of 172 to 155.

From falls that leap 270 feet at a single jump, the city of Seattle, Washington, gets its electric power for lighting, heating and manufacturing. The falls is in the Snoqualmie river, 40 miles from the city. One of the notable things about the river is its name which is added to by the further fact that after 70 miles of journeying, it unites with the Skywamish river to form the Snohomish.

A new printing, gumming and perforating machine for rapid stamp production has been recently set up in the bureau of engraving and printing at Washington, which turns out a mile of finished postage stamps every five minutes.

The federal government is to encourage the raising of silver, black and other varieties of fox in Alaska and the Secretary of Commerce has invited bids for reserves along the coast and for the choice varieties of stock to be found on Pribilof islands. With the skins of better grade foxes fetching as much as $150 each on the London market Uncle Sam believes the time has come to do something that will lessen the price by increasing the supply. In Prince Edward Island raising black foxes have passed the experimental stage and to have been established on a permanent commercial basis. The department reviews its recommendation that the English sparrow, which has become a great nuisance in all parts of the U. Discovery of an extensive bed of giant oysters off the Atlantic coast has just been made by the U. S. bureau of fisheries. This bed is said to extend all the way from Block Island, off Rhode Island, to Virginia Cape, and appears to be 30 miles or more in width. Every time the drag was put down, the experts reported, it brought up 2 to 3 bushels of oysters. Another trip is to be made at once to survey and chart the limit of the bed.

A GLIMPSE BACK THROUGH YEARS

(John E. M. Kerr.)

February 9, 1871.

One evening last week Charley Stewart came down town and hitched his buggy in front of the post-office. While he was gone for a few minutes a fine overcoat, a buffalo robe, whip and other articles were appropriated by some rascal. The missing articles have not been heard from. Loss $300, and no insurance.

Staunton Items:—Ed. Herald: Since my last there has been considerable change in real estate. J. Holmes exchanged his property to Mrs. Long for a house and lot in the suburbs, paying about $200 difference. Mr. Long transferred his new possession to Mr. N. B. Cole, for about $400. I. Stuckey sold his house and lot to I. N. Rowe, for about $1,400 and Rowe became sole owner of the store going under the firm name of Stuckey and Rowe, (Sam) Stuckey retiring from business) and by the above arrangement our physician is almost compelled to leave town unless he can get the property belonging to Mr. Cole.

The Craigs have been making some changes, from the firm name of Craig and Son, to that of Craig Bros.

There are no court news to read from this place, as our J. P. lives about one mile out of town.

CHARGE OF M'ADOO BOBS UP IN HOUSE

Resolution Prays That It Be Made
Subject of An Inquiry.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo's charge that American bankers have conspired to defeat the administration banking and currency bill by depressing the price of government 2 per cent bonds will be made the subject of an inquiry by a house committee if the house passes a resolution offered today by Representative Neely of Kansas.

Mr. Neely was a member of the Pujo money trust committee that operated in the last congress.

The Neely resolution was referred to the committee on rules of which Representative Henry of Texas is chairman. Mr. Henry is in sympathy with the purpose of the resolution and will make every effort to have it reported.

The Neely resolution recites the McAdoo conspiracy charge and then proposes that the secretary of the treasury be summoned before the banking and currency committee to present proof of his charges, and that the committee or a subcommittee be instructed immediately to make an investigation. In his statement Mr. Neely charges in effect that Wall street manipulators last year defrauded the American farmers out of about $7,000,000, representing the difference between the value of the products of the soil and the amount actually received for them by the farmers.

Mulhall could not tell just how much he spent, and thought $200,000 must be a mistake. DISCHARGED BY COURT INTENSITY OF FEELING IS MARKED FEATURE IN THE TRIAL OF CREATH

Judge Craig's Court is Crowded With Interested Spectators From This City and Bloomingburg When Mayor Creath is Placed on Trial Charged With Interfering With an Officer.

ADMISSION OF AGREEMENT FORCED IN CROSS EXAMINATION

Attorney Jones and Badger for Mayor Creath and Rankin and Baughn for the Prosecution Have Lively Clashes and Pass Some Stinging Criticisms of Each Other Amusing The Audience.

The trial of Mayor O. W. Creath of Bloomingburg, charged with resisting an officer in the discharge of his duty, commenced in Squire Craig's court at 9:35 Friday morning, with a number of Bloomingburg and local citizens in attendance, all deeply interested in the proceedings.

Attorneys Carey Baughn and Lee Rankin were attorneys for the prosecution, and Humphrey Jones and Judge D. C. Badger of Columbus, representing the defendant.

The case is one growing out of the attempted arrest of the three Burns detectives while they were in Bloomingburg to testify in Mayor Creath's court on July 3rd.

Chief of Police, F. M. McCoy was the first witness placed on the stand. Under direct examination by Attorney Baughn he related the proceedings which occurred when the arrest was attempted, stating how he and his deputies, armed with warrants for the arrest of the three men, J. O. Carson, Fred A. Speckman and Lawrence Emerson, went to Bloomingburg and found the men on the lawn near the city hall, and how Mayor Creath, Judge Badger and Attorney Urey informed them that the arrest could not be made, and the final failure of the attempt to arrest.

Under cross examination by Attorney Jones he stated that he had started to read the warrant to Speckman when Mayor Creath interrupted, informing him that he could not arrest his witnesses and take them away from his court and break up his court. He further stated under cross examination that Mayor Creath had told him to come inside and they might discuss the affair, and that Attorneys Badger and Urey read a section of the law holding that arrest of witnesses was not permitted. He said Judge Badger had offered a certified check for the appearance of the detectives later. He admitted that Badger had suggested that the men could be arrested in Columbus, and said that Mayor Creath did not use any violence, although he had threatened arrest for contempt of court.

On re-direct examination he said that he had never arrested the men since July 3rd because they had never been in Bloomingburg.

Patrolman Baughn was next called. He said that he had not heard any threats made outside of Mayor Creath's threat to lock Attorney Baughn up for contempt of court. He also said, under direct examination, that Attorney Baughn had directed them to proceed with the arrest of the detectives.

Under cross examination by Attorney Jones, Patrolman Baughn said that the detectives were still in Bloomingburg when he and the other officers left. He stated he had been led to believe the detectives would go away on the train, but the evening train had gone before they left Bloomingburg. Other testimony was somewhat similar to that of Chief McCoy.

Mark DeWitt was next called. He first stated that he had been deputized to assist in the arrest of detectives "Burns and Speckman." He told of Mayor Creath threatening to jail them if they proceeded further with the arrests.

Under cross examination he told how he got inside the building where court was to be held, and heard Mayor Creath threaten to throw them all in jail. The detectives, he said, were hovered in one corner of the room. He admitted being a witness in one of the cases, and said that Urey had called him as a witness, but later said it was Baughn. He knew the detectives were witnesses in the cases pending. Said Baughn represented Alfred Brown, who was charged with bootlegging, and that he urged the arrest of the detectives. He later said Creath had threatened to put Baughn in jail for contempt.

Charles Brown came next. He had seen everyone hurrying into the court building. He followed. Entered in time to hear Baughn demand the subpoenas for the detectives, and heard Creath say he did not have them. Said Baughn then again ordered the arrests, but Badger threw up his hands, blocked the way and called a halt, and that it was then Baughn was threatened with arrest for contempt.

Under cross examination he admitted that he was a brother to Alfred Brown, whom Baughn was to defend in the bootlegging case the afternoon of the attempted arrests. Said he was a witness in the trial.

Attorney Carey Baughn then took the stand. He was examined by Rankin, and told his story of the attempted arrests. He described his part in the affair, admitting that he ordered the police to proceed with the arrests, that he would be responsible if any trouble resulted. He mentioned one of the detectives making reference of "being a pretty good man" and said Mayor Creath also said the same when mention of trouble was made.

The cross examination by Jones was direct and under it Baughn admitted that he had drawn the affidavits, that he knew the arrests were likely to be made just before the trial of his client, that he knew the detectives would probably be witnesses against his client, that the affidavits had been placed in the hands of the officers about noon, and that he reached Bloomingburg a short time before the police did. He admitted that part of his motive in trying to bring about the arrest of the men was to prevent them from testifying against his client. Attorney Jones here took occasion to denounce such conduct.

Still under cross examination he said he understood that court had been in session, and learned that the case had been continued over. He also admitted that after the trial of his client that no further attempt was made to arrest the men in Bloomingburg, and that no resistance was offered after the trial, and that plans for arresting the sleuths in Columbus were formulated but not carried out.

The noon recess was then taken.

Immediately upon the reconvening of court Attorney Jones moved the court to dismiss the defendant because, admitting all that the State's witnesses had testified to as true there was no evidence tending to show that a crime had been committed by Mayor Creath.

The motion to discharge was argued pro and con by Attorneys Jones and Rankin and during their presentation of their respective views, some very caustic assertions were made.

Mr. Jones scored heavily on Mr. Baughn for his conduct and Mr. Rankin countered with very cutting references to Mr. Badger and the Law and Order League.

At the conclusion of the arguments Judge Craig sustained the motion and discharged Mayor Creath, holding that there was no evidence offered to sustain the charge made against him.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Last Day For Students' Referendum.

Columbus, O., Aug. 1.—Today is the last on which referendum petitions can be filed with the secretary of state on the Planefrock students' voting bill. Unless petitions are filed the law becomes effective at midnight and college and university students will be barred from voting at places where they are attending school, if such happen to be outside their home county. Allen Ripley Foote, head of the Ohio state board of commerce, who is directing the referendum effort on the bill, said he probably will have the petitions ready to file by this evening.

Petition Peddlers Bound Over.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 1.—At a special session of the police court here, Cornelius Weiss, William N. Bitt and George Zapf, all charged with obtaining names by fraud to petitions on the Green workmen's compensation act, were bound over to the grand jury and bail was fixed at $1,000. The case of Tom Negus was postponed until Aug. 16.

Charged With Killing Playmate.

Lancaster, O., Aug. 1.—Edward Whitefield, 19, of Lancaster, was placed under arrest on charges of manslaughter in connection with the death of Charles Livesay, 9, his playmate who died from injuries received in a fight with Whitefield. The two boys quarreled, and Whitefield is alleged to have kicked Livesay in the back, causing his death.

Mother and Child Burned.

Columbus, O., Aug. 1.—Helen McCabe, 3-year-old daughter of Joseph McCabe, was fatally burned while playing with matches. In her frantic efforts to smother the flames Mrs. McCabe was severely burned about the arms and hands. Both were rushed to a hospital, where the child died.

Not a Workman Goes Out.

Steubenville, O., Aug. 1.—Not a workman responded to the demand of the Amalgamated officials that they quit at the Phillips Sheet and Tin Plate company's plant at Weldon or be branded as nonunion. The mill is guarded against union organizers.

To Try Cleveland Moose.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 1.—The supreme forum of the Loyal Order of Moose will meet in Cleveland next week to try the members of the order in that city who, it is alleged, circulated stories about the supreme body.

Lightning Fires Elevator.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 1.—Lightning started a fire at the Nickel Plate elevator, which caused a loss of $50,000. Twelve fire companies checked the flames before the entire plant was destroyed.

Boys Fatally Shocked.

Portsmouth, O., Aug. 1.—Fred Boyd, 16, was killed and William Denning, 16, was probably fatally shocked when they stumbled over a live electric wire dislodged by a storm.

Davis For Mayor.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 1.—Harry L. Davis, city treasurer under Mayor Herman Baehr, was selected as the Republican mayoralty candidate by party leaders.

Soaking the Clothes.

Mrs. Browning had a new domestic named Agnes.
"Agnes," said the mistress, "did you put the clothes in soak?"
"Oh did not," answered the girl.
"Did you want me to, mum?"
"Why, certainly," was the reply.
"Very well, mum," said Agnes.
About two hours later Agnes presented herself to her mistress.
"Oh hey put thim clothes in soak, mum," she said, "but the pawnbroker wud give me only chew dollars on the whole outfit. Here be th' money, an' it's sorry Oi am that ye bees so hurrud up."—Harper's Magazine.

NOW PLANNING SHAMROCK IV.

America's Cup Race Certain For Next Year.

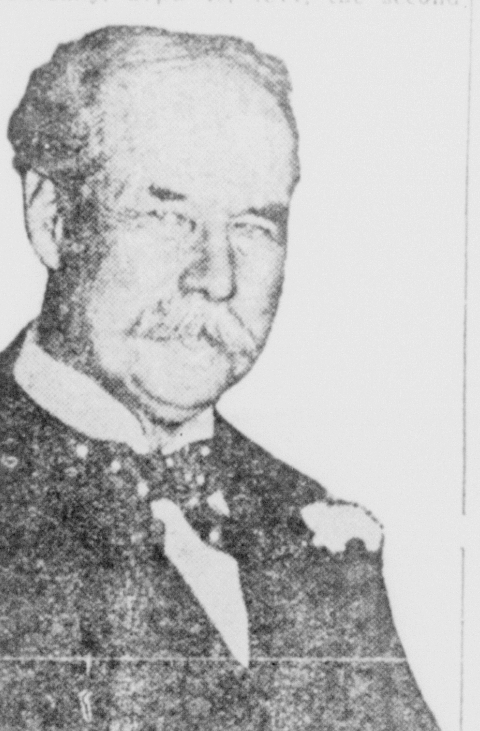

FOR SEVENTY-FIVE FOOTERS?

Sir Thomas Lipton Will Make Another Effort to Win the Celebrated Trophy. Agreement Has Been Reached With the New York Yacht Club—Challenger to Be Sailed by Amateur.

Announcement was made at the New York Yacht club recently that the conditions for a series of races in 1914 for the America's cup have been signed and forwarded by the Royal Ulster Yacht club, acting for Sir Thomas Lipton.

This is the first intimation from the New York Yacht club that the fourth challenge by the Irish baronet, sent several months ago, had been accepted.

The first race will be sailed on Thursday, Sept. 10, 1914, the second, Sept. 17, 1914, the third, Sept. 24, 1914, and the fourth, Oct. 1, 1914.

on Sept. 12 and the third on Sept. 15. Further races, if any, are to be sailed on each following Thursday, Saturday and Tuesday.

The cable message from the Royal Ulster Yacht club stated that the conditions for the match had been signed and forwarded, but G. A. Cormack, secretary of the New York Yacht club, refused to divulge the terms laid down by the cup holding club under which Sir Thomas would be permitted to race for the trophy won by the America many years ago. Mr. Cormack said these conditions and size of the con-

SHORTSTOP MARANVILLE OF THE BOSTON BRAVES LOOKS LIKE STAR

Boston, Aug. 1.—Shortstop Maranville, of the Boston Braves has made a real hit with the fans not only in Boston, but all over the National league circuit. He is always in action and covers as much ground as any infielder going. Spectators are often surprised to see him backing up a throw from the outfield to third base or even to the home plate. He lacks the steadiness that experience will give him, but his quickness enables him to avoid what looks like a certain error. It is not unusual for him to fumble a fast ball and then recover it in time to get the runner at first. He throws quickly and with accuracy, and at bat he is effective. Mr. Maranville is worth watching.

THE FORESTERS COME NEXT SUNDAY

Having "got going" in the old time winning stride, the local base ball team has been winning constantly of late. Notwithstanding the fact that the management is looking for faster teams each game, it is confidently expected by the fans hereabouts that the good work will continue.

The Shamrock IV, the latest challenge, will be designed and built by Charles E. Nicholson of Gosport, England, and sailed by one of the best amateur skippers in the British isles—W. P. Burton.

The cup will be defended by a craft built by an American syndicate, whose members will, as in past contests, represent the New York Yacht club. Cornelius Vanderbilt, the New York millionaire, will be one of the chief members of the syndicate and a leading contributor to the fund necessary to conduct the races.

At the Minstrels.

Mr. Interlocutor, if a baby swallowed a key what would you call it?

"I don't know, Mr. Bones. What would you call it?"

"A key in a minor."

"Mr. Baker will now oblige with a recitation entitled 'Ragtime.'"

Fletcher (who has a cow to sell)—Of course she hasn't any of those A. R. O's attached to her name, but she's got her good p'int, all right. Milcher—Yeah, but I want one with a record and some good daughters. You can judge them by their quarts and gals.—Exchange.

Overconfidence.

Probably the best thing about overconfidence is that if a girl didn't have it she wouldn't ever marry.—Galveston News.

Not in His Line.

A motor stopped in front of the photographer's, and a woman lacking none of the artificial accessories deemed necessary to "looks" entered the studio. A couple of days later the photographer submitted proofs for her approval. "Not one of those pictures looks anything like me," the woman insisted. The photographer tried in every way to pacify her, but finding this an impossibility, lost control of his temper. "Madam," he exclaimed, "did you read my sign?" "Yes," she did not say "cleaning, dyeing and remodeling." It says "portraits."—New York Times.
